CWL Atlanta Open champion Rise Nation claimed the most significant share of the $200,000 event prize pool, as part of this Call of Duty World League season's $4.2 million prize purse, the largest in Call of Duty esports history.

"This win means everything to my teammates and me. For my fan base, there's a lot of people who stuck behind me for a long time and to see them now still supporting me when I'm at the highest point of my career; it's truly humbling. The Rise Nation fans make this all worthwhile," said CWL Atlanta Open MVP Anthony "Methodz" Zinni. "My family's support is unmatched. They've supported me throughout my career, even when things weren't going well. I love them, and I'm as excited for them today as they are for me."

Viewers watched as over 170 teams competed over the weekend in front of live fans, online at MLG.com/CallofDuty and Twitch.tv/CallofDuty as well as via the in-game Call of Duty®: WWII theater within Headquarters.

Here are the final rankings for the CWL Atlanta Open:

- 1st – Rise Nation
- 2nd – Red Reserve
- 3rd – Luminosity Gaming
- 4th – Team EnVyUs
- 5th/6th – eUnited / OpTic Gaming
- 7th/8th – Evil Geniuses / Team Kaliber
